This was definitely decided on in a regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the California congress of the association held in the Security building here this week.

The meeting, which was largely attended by members from all parts of the state, was presided over by Mrs. Hugh Bradford of Sacramento, association president. In addition to the choice of the 1925 convention site, many other matters of importance were discussed.

The expansion needs of the association in the rural districts received consideration, and publication of a state monthly bulletin was decided on.

Justice Hunter Bars Reporter From the Court

Guertin Hearing 'Private,' by Order of Lomita Township Jurist

Justice of the Peace L. J. Hunter this morning excluded representatives of the press from the court room when the preliminary hearing of the case of Phil Guertin was called. The justice first excluded witnesses, then told the balance of the audience to leave the room. A newspaper reporter asked "Does that include me as a representative of the press?" The justice responded in the affirmative.

The clerk of the court is a newspaper reporter, but was allowed to remain in the court room in her official capacity.

Guertin, it is alleged, left his wife and five children and went to San Francisco with Marion Sharpe, a Lomita high school girl. He is charged with failure to support his family.

WIFE SAVERS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

Cleaning to most of us, is not exactly an agreeable task. The satisfaction comes in seeing the improvement made by our work. And it may be made easier if you have the proper supplies at hand to use when wanted. Keep three boxes plainly marked "nickel," "brass" and "silver" polish. Few housekeepers appreciate how easily nickel and brass may be kept bright and shining if the proper materials are used. Let each box contain the entire equipment for doing the work, then it will take only a minute to rub up a nickel casserole or a pair of brass candlesticks.

Pot Roast of Beef.—Brown meat well on both sides in a little oil, then take out and fry a small onion in the same fat. Put meat back into pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and add a couple of bay leaves and a little hot water. Cover and cook slowly until tender. About three-quarters of an hour before the meat is to be served add pepper to taste. Take all out, mix two or more tablespoons of flour smooth in a little cold water, add to liquid in pan in which meat was cooked, and cook until smooth. If you have browned the meat well in the first place your gravy should be a rich brown. Strain and serve over potatoes.

Leftover bits of pie crust may be used in these two ways: (1) Roll thin. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Roll up, moistening edge with water, to hold roll together. Cut into one-quarter-inch slices. Bake. (2) Roll thin, cut in rounds, press into cup cake tins, prick them with fork. Bake. When cold, fill with spoon, with jam or jelly.

Date Sandwiches.—Remove pits from one pound of dates, chop lightly and mix with one tablespoon or a little more of cream and one teaspoon pulverized sugar. Slice and butter bread, spread with crisp lettuce leaf, then with date mixture, cover with buttered bread and cut into desired shape. Nuts may be chopped and used with the dates.

Corn Griddle Cakes.—This is an excellent way of using up leftover cooked corn. Cut or press from the cobs sufficient of the cooked corn pulp to make one cupful and add three tablespoons of melted butter substitute, two lightly beaten eggs, two tablespoons of sugar and one and a half cups of milk. Sift into a bowl two and a half cups of flour and add one teaspoon of salt and one and a half tablespoons of baking powder. Gradually combine the corn and liquid with the dry ingredients, beat until very light and add one tablespoon of dark molasses (this browns the cakes). Fry on a hot greased griddle and serve with butter and shaved maple sugar. This is a recipe obtained from the Maine guides.

If the family seems tired of the wholesome carrot, try serving it in a different form. Cut small carrots lengthwise in finger-shaped pieces and sprinkle with a bit of chopped parsley, slice crosswise and use with green string beans in salad. Cubes or slices combine well with peas, and small whole carrots make a pretty garnish for the meat platter. An attractive and appetizing salad is made by scattering grated raw carrots over shredded cabbage. Serve with French or mayonnaise dressing. The carrots add a pleasant bit of color as well as important minerals and vitamins.

Baked Ham au Gratin.—One slice smoked ham (one inch thick), one-quarter cup molasses, one cup boiled rice, one-quarter cup grated cheese. Freshen ham by soaking in cold water one hour. Drain and wipe free from water. Spread and work in molasses on both sides of the slice with edge of saucer. Let stand a fitting time. Bake in moderate oven forty-five minutes. It will be necessary to baste ham with small amount of water in the pan. When ham is cooked, pile the rice lightly and evenly on the slice and sprinkle grated cheese over the top. Return to oven to melt and brown the cheese.

Bacon and Potato Omelet.—Make omelet as usual, stirring in leftover cooked bacon and potato cut in small pieces. Cook as usual.

If a wet sweater is hung up it is sure to stretch out of shape more or less in drying. Spread a sheet on a table or other flat surface, lay the carefully washed sweater on the sheet, drawing each part into correct shape. Turn up occasionally, and when perfectly dry your sweater will be like new.

Eggs in Nest.—Six eggs, six teaspoons thick cream, salt. Beat to a froth the whites of eggs and pour into a buttered baking dish. Put a spoon of thick cream in each of six places about the same distance apart. Upon each spoon of cream drop a yolk of egg (unbroken). Bake in moderate oven. Serve hot.

Honey Delight Cookies.—One-third cup shortening, one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup pure honey, one egg, one-half tablespoon lemon juice, one and one-half cups flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder. Cream shortening and add sugar slowly. Add honey, beaten egg yolk and lemon juice. Mix well, add flour and baking powder, which have been sifted together. Beat thoroughly. Fold in beaten white of egg. Drop from tip of spoon on greased tins and bake in hot oven ten to fifteen minutes.

There are many points the shopper should master before buying candlesticks. First of all, quality counts. Cheap candlesticks are extravagant investments. If you cannot afford solid silver candlesticks, good heavy plate is far better than the light plate, which is wood, silver covered, and before long looks shabby and peels. The weight of the base for the height of the shaft must be considered, also the balanced shape of the shaft in regard to the size and fashion of the cup at top which holds the candle.

In order to wipe the entire inner surface of large windows each week without having to go to the trouble of bringing in a squeegee, purchase a small string mop of the dish mop variety, only larger and with a bushier mop head. It should have a handle of convenient length. Make for this three or four little cheesecloth bags with a drawing string top. Treat these by rinsing in a quart of clean warm water to which half a cup of kerosene has been added. Hang up dripping in the air to dry. Draw this over the mop head and use this fat little duster to wipe the inside of the window glass. The bags may be washed in soap and water when soiled.

Prepare "chemical dusters" by treating cheesecloth squares in the same manner as the window bags. These trap the dust and give a polish at the same time. It is always desirable to have one clean white duster at hand, however.

Bread Custard.—Three slices buttered bread, one quart milk, four eggs, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon vanilla extract, few preserved cherries and candied peel. Beat the eggs and sugar slightly. Add milk and vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and set the bread on top with buttered side up. Bake in moderate oven till firm. Decorate nicely on top with cherries and candied peel, and serve cold. The bread custard is delicious.

Kitchen aprons of unbleached linen crash, made after the pattern of the chef's apron, give better satisfaction than those made from any other material, as they are waterproof, can be washed and boiled, and are very clean-looking.

Mushrooms with Cream.—Wash, peel and cap one pound of mushrooms. Reserve skins for flavoring sauces and stocks. Cut stems and caps in thin slices. Cook the sliced mushrooms in five tablespoons melted butter for five minutes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with two tablespoons sifted flour, and add one-half cup cream of milk. Serve on slices of toast.

Apple Dumplings.—Use either a rich biscuit or pie dough. Cut in squares and on each square place an apple that has been pared and cored. Fill cavities in apple with sugar, pinch each of cinnamon and nutmeg, and a little butter. Fold edges of pastry over apples and bake. Before removing from oven you may brush the dumplings with sugar if you wish. A sauce of one cup boiling water, one-half cup sugar, one-fourth cup butter and one-half teaspoon cinnamon may be poured around the dumplings before baking.

The orange is a fruit that can be obtained at all seasons of the year. And it is a fruit that can be served over and over without becoming less appetizing. It's a tangy flavor and its mineral content make it a most valuable food. It is a food equally beneficial to infants and to adults.

E. C. Bates and John Beck, two progressive young business men, have taken charge of the Ventura service station, 263d street and Wilmington boulevard, and it is their intention to improve the place in several ways in order to make it come up to their requirements. The Ventura station is the last chance for gas, oil or grease before reaching Wilmington or San Pedro from Torrance or Lomita.

NATURAL!

The criminal trial was just about to commence, and the jury had assembled in the box and were about to be sworn in by the clerk of the court. All went along like a house on fire until No. 10 was arrived at. He was a meek little man with a bald head and wearing strong spectacles—the sort of man one might call henpecked. "You are a property holder?" asked the clerk. "Yes, sir," replied jurymen No. 10. "Married or single?" "Married, sir," answered the little man. "And how long for five years?" "Have you formed or expressed any opinion?" "Not for five years, sir."

Warn Torrance Against Faked Payroll Checks

Huge Forgery Plot Planned With Standard Oil False Paper

Long Beach authorities requested The Herald to warn local merchants against cashing bogus and forged Standard Oil Company payroll checks.

Police yesterday learned that 1000 fake blank checks were obtained by a forger from a Long Beach printing establishment, and were on the lookout for the first report of attempts to negotiate the worthless paper.

According to Long Beach officials, a clever forger or group of forgers concocted the scheme to cashing oil field payroll paper and selected the Standard Oil Company checks as the most desirable on account of the prestige of the company.

Local merchants have always been willing to cash legitimate oil field payroll checks, but are urged in this instance to co-operate with the authorities.

The Standard Oil Company, it is asserted, will instruct all employees not to request merchants to cash their checks until the forgers have been apprehended.

Opening Night Attracts Huge Crowd to Show

Torrance Theatre, Under New Management, Makes Its First Bow

The Pacific Southwest Theatres, Inc., under the direction of Arthur E. Delmore, Torrance representative, took charge of the Torrance theatre Wednesday night. Mr. Delmore promised a real surprise for the opening night under the new management of the theatre and he kept his word. Aside from the showing of "The Covered Wagon," he presented two headliner vaudeville numbers, one from the Orpheum and the other from the Pantages circuit, Torrance Syncopators in jazz music, and a boys' band from Los Angeles, which, besides playing several selections, gave fancy dancing and brass solo numbers.

Mr. Delmore was greatly pleased with the opening crowd, and in his opening address announced that the Torrance people would receive only the best pictures and the best vaudeville.

The crowd was so large before the doors were opened that the police were called to protect them from automobiles.

Mr. Delmore confined the advertising of the opening to the columns of The Torrance Herald and The Lomita News.

FOOLS throw matches in dry grass and great areas are eaten by the flames.

Fools drive their cars at excessive speed across intersections and human beings are maimed and killed.

Fools drink bum booze and drive cars and lose their lives. Fools turn corners with their cars on two wheels and turn turtle, with results that make front-page news stories.

Fools used to rush in where angels fear to tread. Now they rush in where even devils dare not go.

The nation's daily casualty list and damaged-property account is on the ledger against fools.

GANNA WALSKA, beautiful singer, is more beautiful than singer. At the Grand Opera in Paris she was almost hooted off the stage. At Berlin the other day critics lauded her beauty and her voice. One must admire the comely spouse of Mr. McCormick for her determination to storm the citadels of fame with the questionable quality of her vocal abilities. Before she married the Chicago millionaire she just couldn't get a real chance on the great opera stages of the world. But the harvester millions gave her a chance. On three signal opportunities she has failed to enthrall and succeeded only in convincing her listeners that Mr. McCormick has a beautiful wife. Money will not buy quality of voice. It cannot buy anything but material quality. God still reserves the privilege of selecting his own artists and seers.
